A Little Bit Of History

The Fox & Hounds has been welcoming guests for nearly 150 years.

What you see now started life as two cottages, which were converted to a beerhouse by 1866 and possibly much earlier. Beer was brewed on the premises, probably using water drawn from its own well. The beerhouse was known locally as The Drum and Monkey before it burnt down in the mid 1860s. It was re-built and re-named shortly afterwards.

Fitting now then, after a complete transformation in 2015, we look forward to the pub continuing to thrive well into the next century.
